To everything there is a season,
and a time to every purpose under heaven:

a time to be born,
and a time to die;

a time to plant, and a time
to pluck up what is planted;

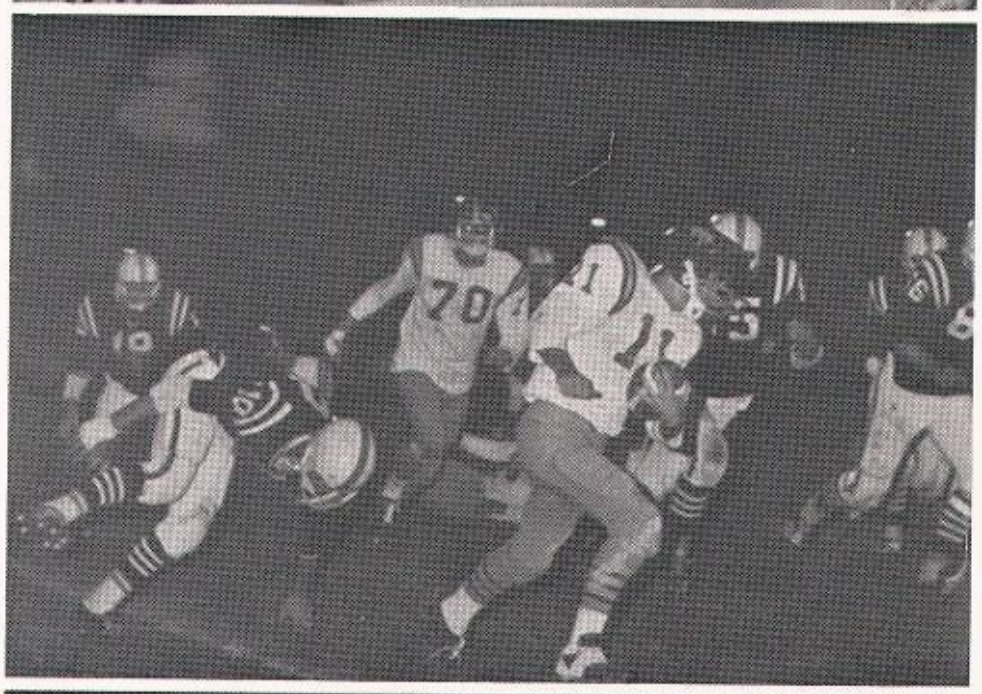
a time to kill,
and a time to heal;

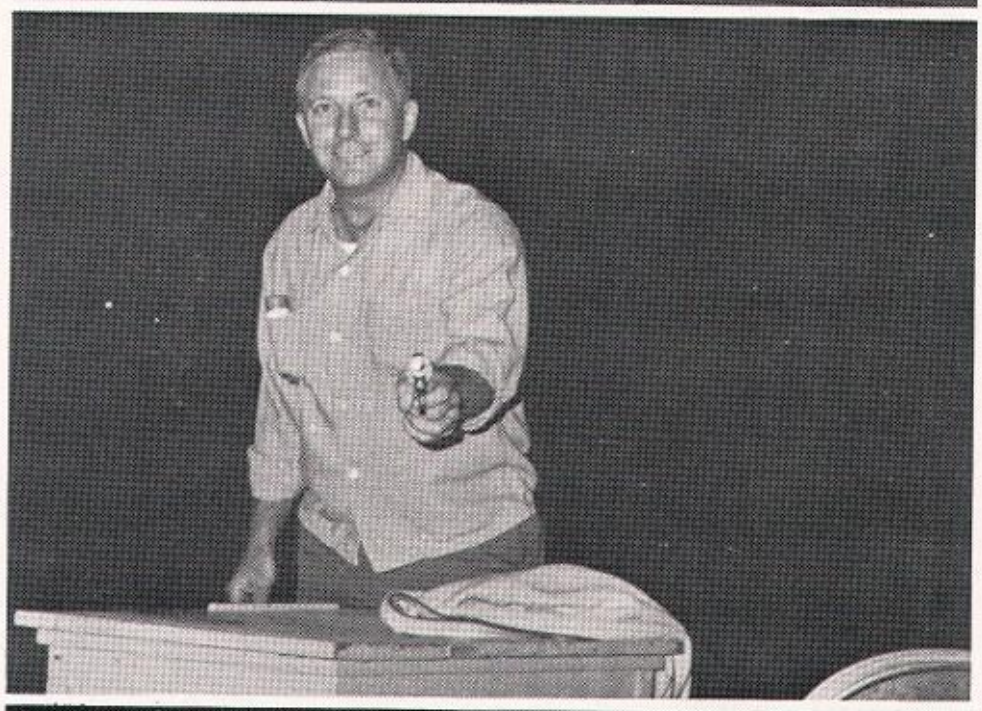
a time to break down,
and a time to build up;

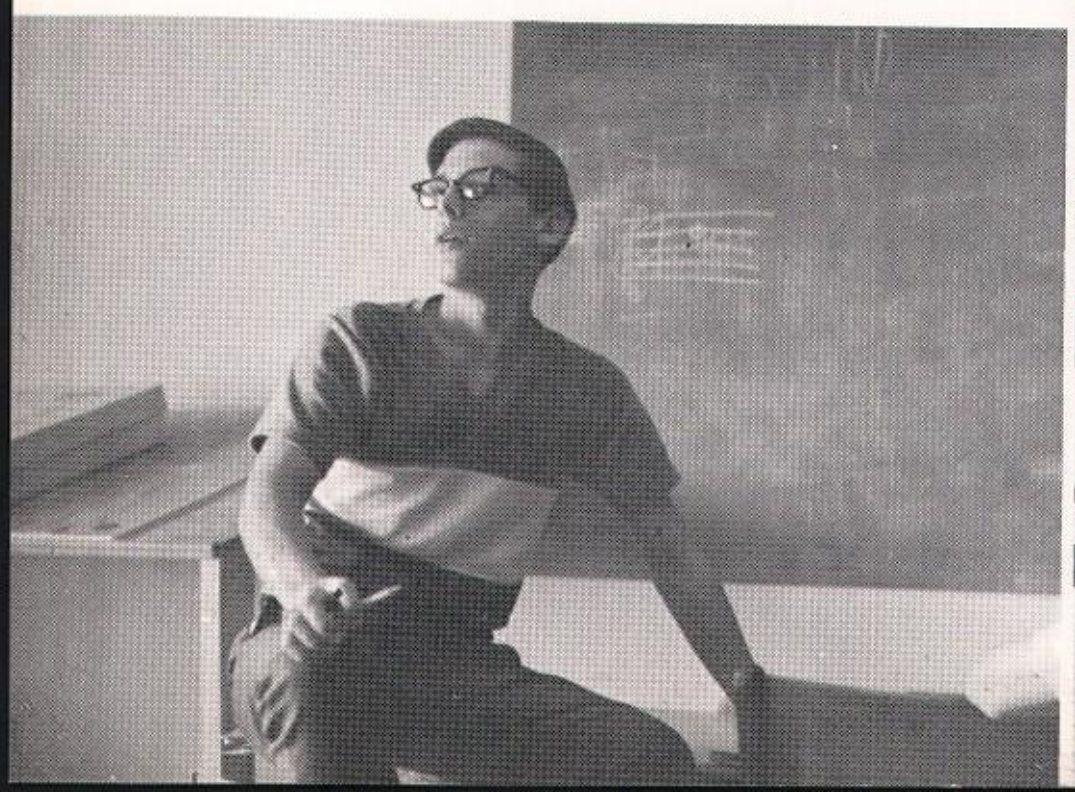
a time to weep,
and a time to laugh;

a time to mourn,
and a time to dance;

a time to cast away stones,
and a time to gather
stones together;







a time to embrace,
and a time to refrain
from embracing;

a time to seek,
and a time to lose;

a time to keep,
and a time to cast away;

a time to rend,
and a time to sew;

a time to keep silence,
and a time to speak;

a time to love,
and a time to hate;

a time for war,
and a time for peace.

TIME: The Elusive Stranger

As elusive as the air itself is time. Time is here; it is now, but it cannot be recaptured nor can it be stored.

How is time related to you?

Is it your friend? Do you use it wisely?

Is it your keeper? Do you constantly watch the clock to see if there is yet time enough to complete your duties so as to be free of responsibilities?

Is it your beacon of hope?

Is it your enemy? Do you find yourself so disorganized that you cannot accomplish things worthwhile?

Yes, time is all important to every one of us. What is important is how to learn to deal with this mysterious stranger.

A few words worth heeding: Once time is past, it can never be regained.

It is my sincere hope that your time at the Lakin schools has been of great value.

Dorrell George

Dorrell George, Superintendent

Time is a very appropriate theme for this year's annual. Since time is nebulous, it is impossible to fully realize exactly what it is, why it unceasingly moves forward or why it passes. No man is immune to the affect of its constant passing; no man can alter or change its composition or nature. As a result, this year's annual will always be a constant reminder of the TIME spent at Lakin High School. I hope that this TIME was beneficial to you and to your associates. It is a part of our life that can never be relived, but the memories will always be a very integral part of us.

COUNSELOR

Guidance is a broad term which is often applied to a total program of activities and services which attempt to assist pupils in making and carrying out adequate plans which will provide satisfactory accomplishments in life.

Guidance should serve youth and their future. Within the context of education, it must deal with the individual and individual decisions.

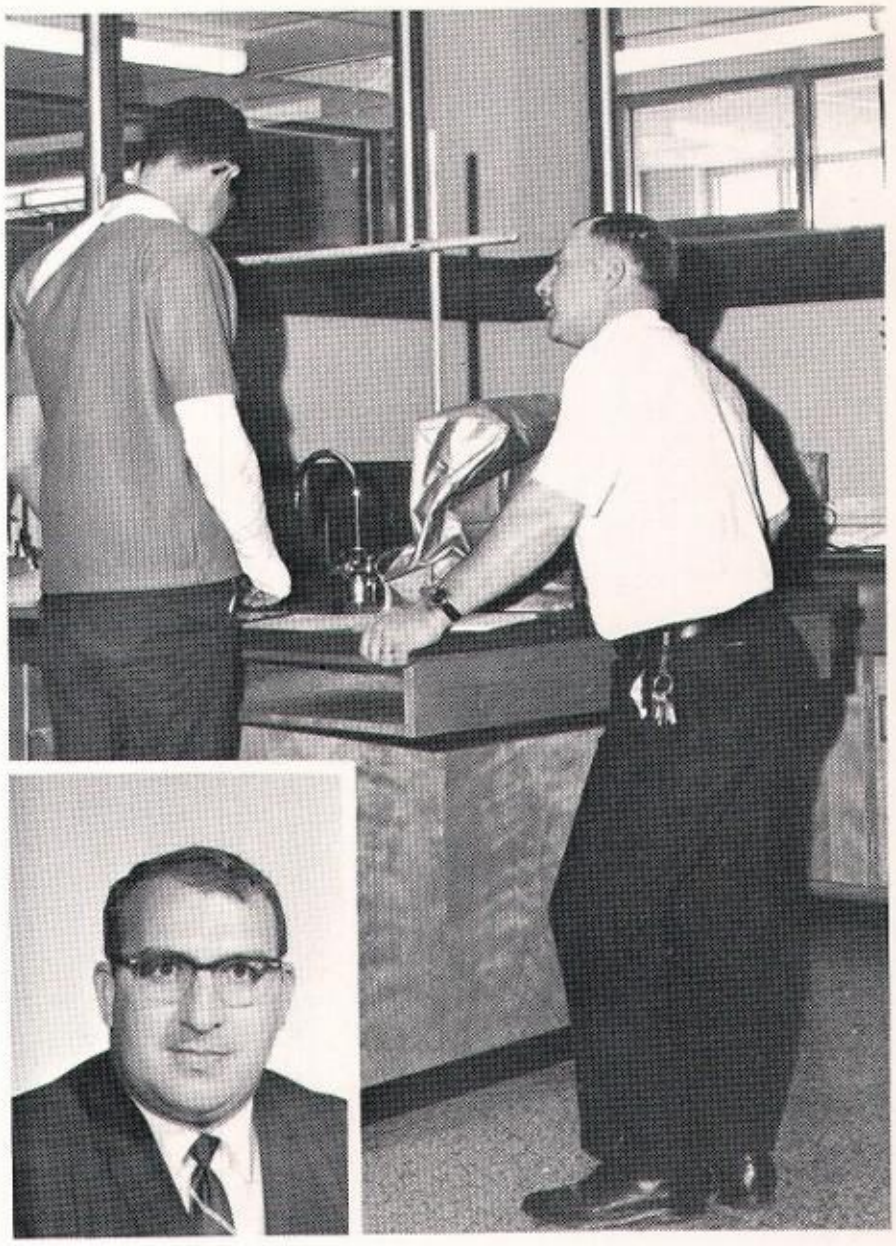
Bill Hicks

John Henderson, Jack Campbell, Wallace Kuhlman, F. R. Goodnight, Merl Rider, Harlan Burrows, Richard Brown

SCIENCE

The general purpose of science is an appreciation of the subject and particularly, scientific investigation through laboratory experimentation. The student must be taught the basic scientific facts which would enable him to become a better informed member of society. The teacher must prepare the student for a successful completion of a college education leading to a scientific career, and the teacher must try to encourage the student to attempt to pursue scientific careers.

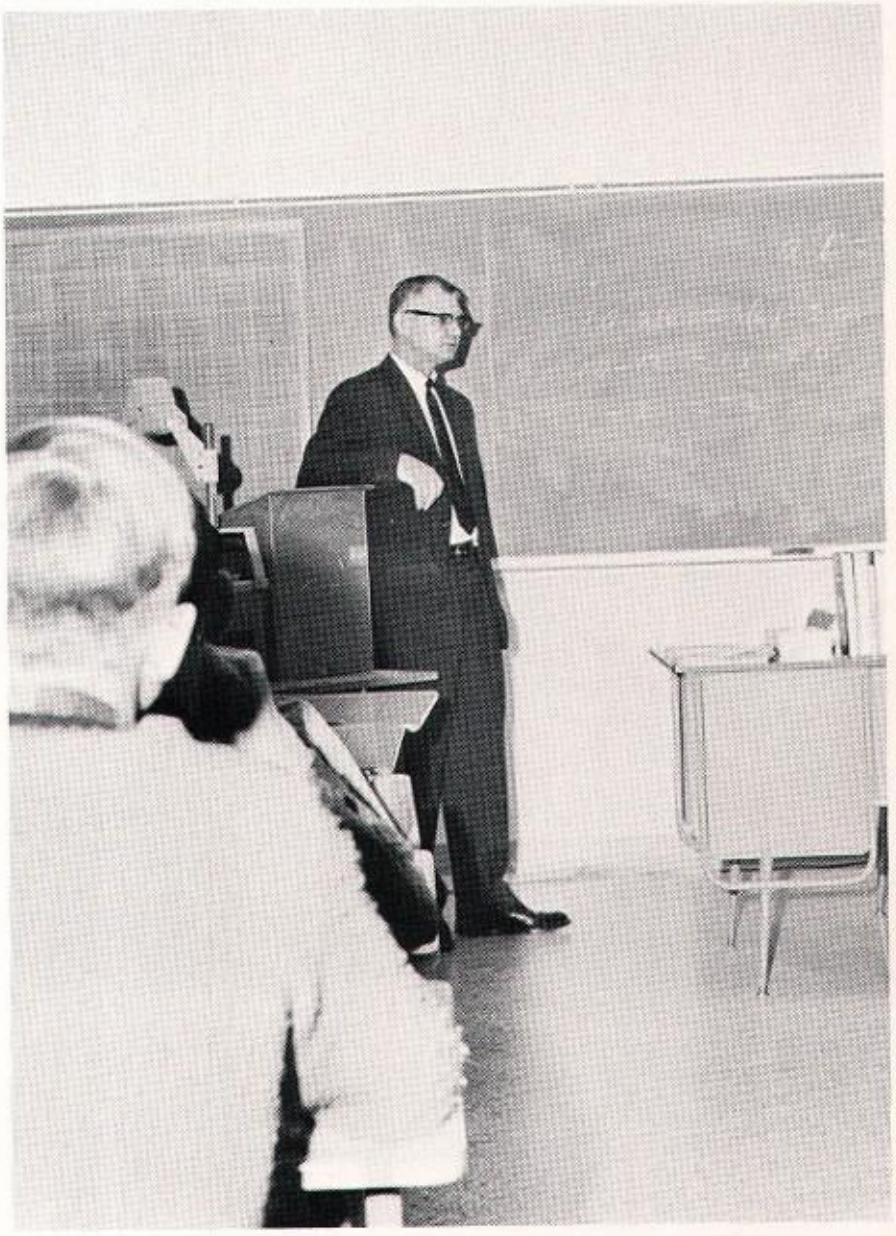
Eldon Gilbert
Roger Butler



MATHEMATICS

In our technological age, our aim is to offer a program in mathematics that will allow each student to develop mathematically to the maximum of his native ability. Although many students today expect to attend college, our basic curriculum is for the non-college bound as well as for those who will attend college. We believe that our junior and senior mathematics program will prepare a person for college analytic geometry and calculus.

Marlin Krehbiel
Roger Butler



ENGLISH

Writing and speaking the English language correctly are invaluable assets to all Americans. A good command of the language will pay off in self-satisfaction and ability to make ourselves understood. A good English course will help the student to become more proficient in writing and speaking and more interested in reading.

Madison Downing
Lavonna Martin
Ruth Henning

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

The foreign language department of Lakin High School is headed by Mr. Lawrence Miller. The two languages offered are Spanish and French. These courses are offered for those students who plan to make a vocation on language arts, and also to prepare people for situations in which they might need to communicate in another language.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

World History, American History, and American Government are the courses offered in social science. The purpose of these courses is to help the individual understand the development of our country and to develop ideas of patriotism. The knowledge gained by these courses plays an important part in our learning to be a good citizen and also in recognizing the responsibilities we have as a citizen of the United States.

Bill Sharpe
Eddie Cramer

BUSINESS

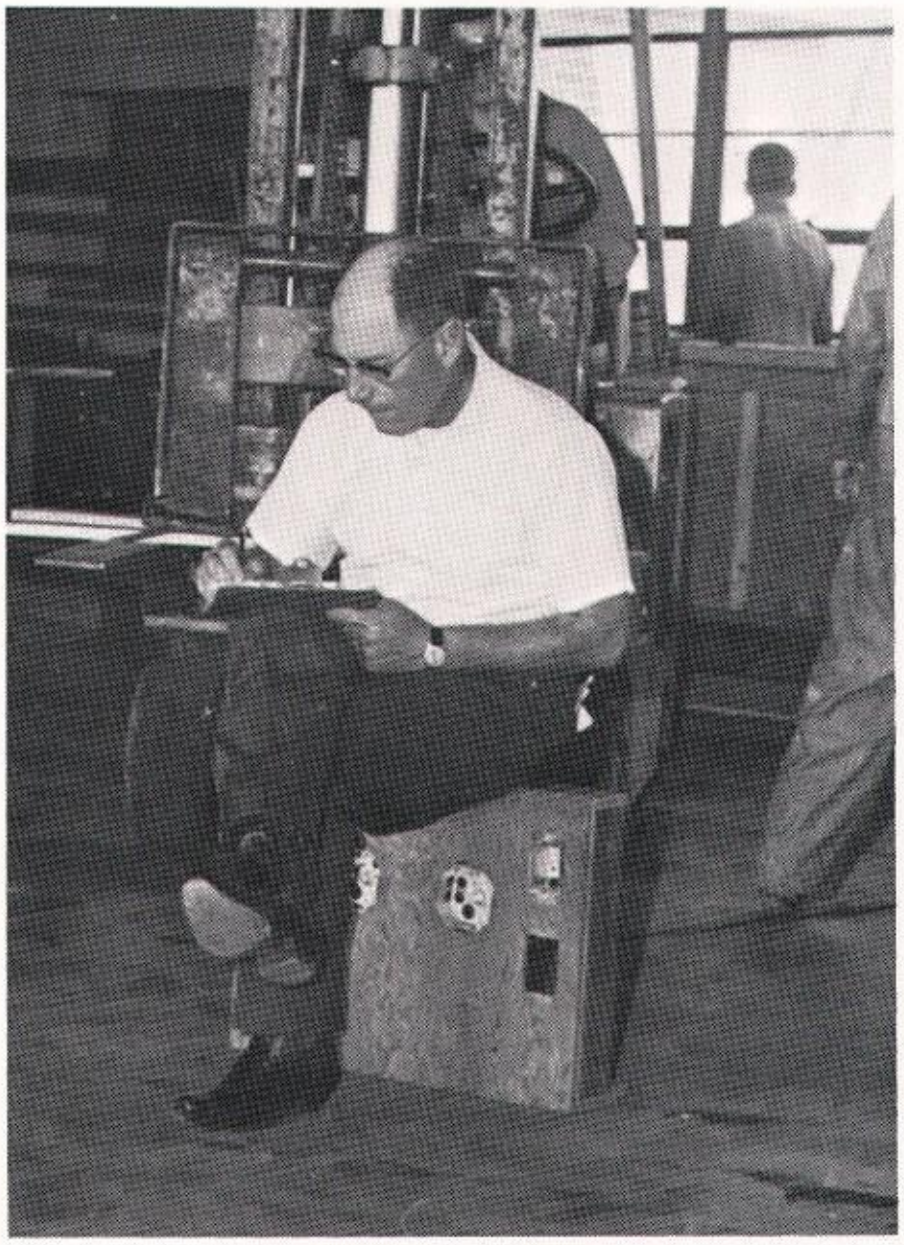
Business subjects are taught to students of Lakin High School to enable them to better understand the world in which they live, to give them a background for further study, and to provide useful skills for earning a living. We believe that business subjects are useful for all students regardless of their vocation.

Shirley Mc Cormack
Ruth Henning

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The industrial arts teacher at Lakin High is Mr. Verlyn Fisher. Mr. Fisher teaches his students the fundamental steps in constructing tables, lamps, and other elementary objects. Mr. Fisher helps his students in their construction but tries to let the student work for himself and construct his own material.

Verlyn Fisher



VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

Vocational Agriculture gives pre-training to boys who are interested in the agricultural profession. This training includes farm mechanics, production and exploratory training in related fields.

Dean Hoppas

HOME ECONOMICS

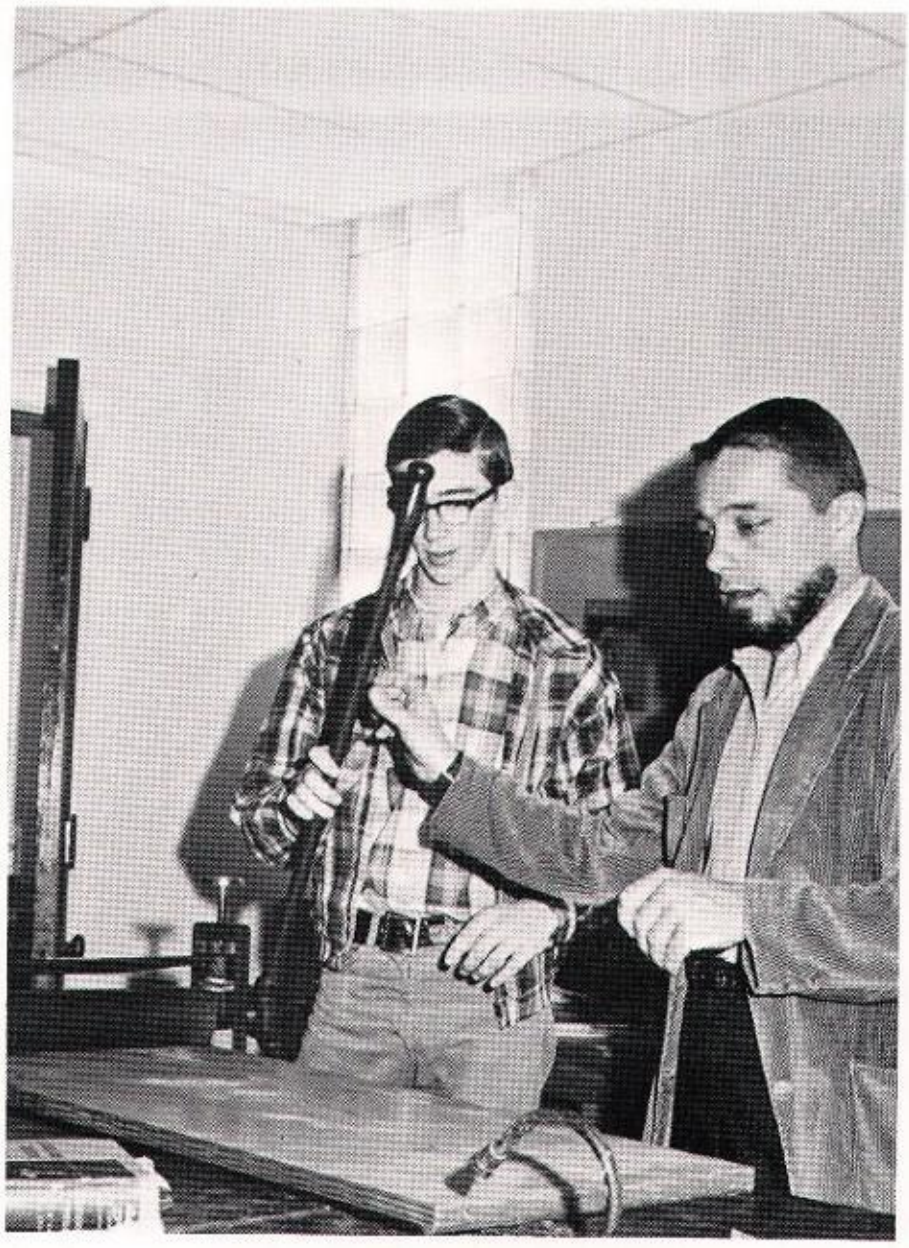
The home economics classes endeavor to prepare the student for future homemaking by establishing guides to good nutrition; meal planning; management of time, energy, and money; selection and construction of clothing; interior decoration; and studies in dating, courtship, marriage, and child care.

Charlotte Mueller

I. M. C.

The library traditionally is concerned with books, newspapers, and magazines. Now such things as film strips, record disks, pictures, micro-film, and transparencies all are becoming an important part of what in informational media. In many schools the library is called the Instruction Material Center, which is shortened to I. M. C.

Donald McCoy



ART

The message of art is not necessarily a simple one or an easy one; and it is quite legitimate that a painting or a statue be meaningless to persons at one level of education and yet be clear and explicit to those at another level who are particularly trained to understand it.

Harold Waldrum

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The mind is only as good as the body. To be healthy a person must be physically fit, which means his body must be able to work at its fullest efficiency. Physical activity in sports provides a release for tensions as well as teaching good sportsmanship. It helps a person to function as an individual as well as learning to cooperate on a team. These sports give opportunities for practice in leadership, which will extend to social life.

Frankie Summers
Eddie Cramer

BAND

The main point stressed in the instrumental music classes is flexibility and how to use it. In order for a person to be flexible he must be trained in the simple every-day fundamentals of what he is doing.

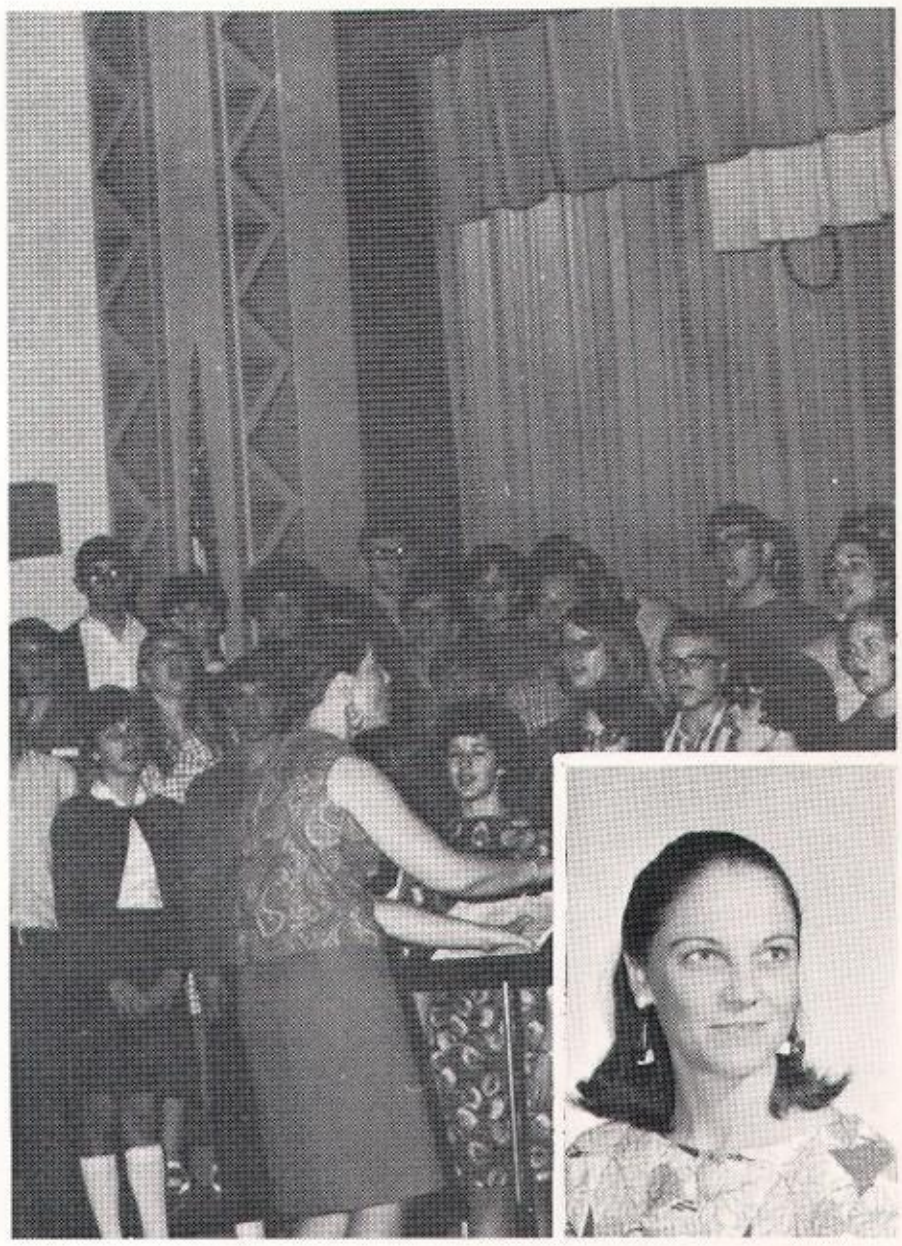
Harold Waldrum

VOCAL MUSIC

Singing is probably the oldest form of music art. It is natural to sing.

In order to enable students to enjoy vocal music to the fullest, it should be the intent of every vocal instructor to train students that, no matter when or where they sing, they will have developed for themselves a set of habits that will enable them always to sing to the fullest extent of their capabilities.

Margaret Waldrum



JOURNALISM

The purpose of Mrs. Martin's journalism class is to learn the fundamentals of journalism, which are reporting and writing stories. The class writes and edits the school paper, the yearbook, and the Bronc's tale.

Through her teaching of journalism, Mrs. Martin would like to improve the attitude toward the school paper. Through the paper and the yearbook, she hopes to create a better relationship between the school and the community.

Lavonna Martin

SPEECH

Speech is the only universal means of communication. The goal in speech class is to help students to become aware of the importance of good speech, to overcome their inhibitions, to gain self-confidence, and to establish values and principles which will be an asset in any walk of life that they may choose to follow.

Madison Downing

DRIVER'S EDUCATION

In Driver's Education, the text is coordinated with the various phases of driving. The students drive on the highway. The classes try to simulate city driving as nearly as possible. In the latter part of the year, the students practice parallel parking. Time is also spent on physical testing by various devices.

THE SISTERS TRAGEDY

Three sisters, with their blind deaf-mute brother, are the last of an old family, with a supersensitive religious feeling. The youngest girl, tender and passionate, in order to relieve her sisters of the burden of taking care of their blind brother and hence permitting one of them to marry, allows him to drown. When she finds she is regarded as a murderess, she imagines that her brother is still with her and that the terrible occurrence was only a dream.

B-Team Cheerleaders: Michele LeBeau, Linda Vann, Peggy Taylor, Cherri Gunter.

Both "A" and "B" team cheerleaders participated in assemblies held on every game day. During these assemblies, the cheerleaders taught the fans new cheers and performed many skits to promote school spirit.

Last summer the five A-team cheerleaders went to Chadron State College at Chadron, Nebraska for an NCA Cheerleading Camp. Here the girls learned new cheers, how to promote school spirit, and most important--how to get along with people under various circumstances. All five agreed that the experience was very valuable.

The annual staff would like to congratulate the cheerleaders on a job well done!
